60 years ago an all but forgotten incident in the jungle sparked off untold atrocities and a devastating grudge match between an irresistible force and an immovable object...

The Elephant Graveyard centers around Christopher Harding a thirtysomething everyman who finds himself at the centre of a violent feud handed down through generations.

Beginning with strange visions and headaches that are actually latent memories from his grandfather, Christopher fears for his sanity and enlists the help of his rather aloof girlfriend who recommends he see a psychiatrist. Delving into his consciousness Harding finds some surprising revelations and his condition only worsens. The sudden disappearance of his girlfriend only compounds his fears.

After being in hiding for over 10 years, Reiko Yamaguchi and her mentor Kenji, try to uncover why their family were killed. They follow the clues to reveal a strange man named Conners, who has masterminded not only their demise but also that of an unsuspecting man named Christopher Harding.

ELEPHANT GRAVEYARD

SYNOPSIS

Harding, having been manipulated from the word go by Conner's who has both Harding's girlfriend and his psychiatrist under his employ, finds himself alone and desperate in Hong Kong. Reiko, Kenji and their new friend Takeshi find Harding in Hong Kong and try to unravel the final clues to Conner's killing spree.

Pursued by Conners; Harding, Reiko and company escape to a neighboring island. The final confrontation between Conner's and Harding concludes with the death of Reiko and Kenji and Conner's mad incantations at wanting Harding to experience all of the pain, fear and suffering of his father, who was left abandoned in the jungle those sixty years ago.

Harding barely escapes Conner's grip and fights on bravely pushing his boundaries and using his instincts to evade capture by disappearing deep into the jungle to live another day.
